Vietnam is gaining a lot of attention. In December 2006 it successfully hosted the APEC, and in January 2007, it gained admittance into the WTO. Vietnam is the 2nd fastest growing economy in the world, in terms of GDP it ranks 2nd only to China. Vietnam continues to be an attractive market for investments. Foreign direct investments (FDI) grew from $5.8 billion in 2005 to $10.2 billion by end of 2006. From January 2006 to November 2006, imports to Vietnam increased by $40 million USD to an unprecedented $97.5 million and during the same time period, exports increased over 30%.

This 10-day mission is organized by VN Ventures, a trade promotion company with offices in the US and Vietnam, and supported by Vietnam Ministry of Industry (MOI), Vietnam Chamber of Commerce and Industry (VCCI), Ho Chi Minh City Department of Planning and Investment (DPI), and Hanoi Trade Promotion Center. The delegation is headed by Andy Tran, CEO of VN Ventures, and Geoffrey Connor, former Secretary of State of Texas. During his term as Texas Secretary of State in 2004, Mr. Connor led the state's first delegation of business people to Vietnam on a successful trade mission.

For business, the program includes access to the Executive Summit at the prestigious 5 star New World Hotel in downtown Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), access to the 4th Vietnam International Industry Fair, commercial briefings, field trips, site visits, receptions with government agencies and numerous opportunities to interact with local officials and business leaders. For leisure, the programs includes a golf tournament at a premier Vietnam golf course, city tours, meals and entertainments, river cruises, including a spectacular seafood lunch cruise along the scenic Ha Long Bay, known as one of the world's most beautiful World Heritage sites.
